Hi everyone,

It's that time of year again! Our kids will be going back to school soon, and we need your help.

Using new supplies that you donate to us, we fill the backpacks of each child in our program according to the specific lists we receive from their teachers. Our goal is to make sure that none of our children feel different than their peers on the first day back at school.

Every year you do an amazing job donating the supplies we need to fill all those backpacks. This program is only possible because of your support.

Thank you for setting our kids up for success!
